Jamey:

Thursday works. I will send a dial in.

On the documents, there is no description of what the excel files are. Most are juts lists of what appear to be numbers, with nothing more. Also, I do not see any CDRs for the calls placed to leads originating from Otto.

I have other questions about some of the documents because they don't track with the information you provided in our discussions. We can discuss Thursday.

Regards,

Max

Max,

What about the documents—can you elaborate?

I am available Thursday at 2:00 p.m. EST for a call (I just had a deposition cancel). Is this a call to say Plaintiff wants to dismiss the case?

Thank you,

Jamey

Jamey:

Received. We are reviewing the responses. I note that the Interrogatories are not verified. When will you provide the verification?

On documents, your responses note that you intend to produce documents within a month. Please advise why this additional time is needed to produce documents. We presume that your office reviewed the documents before providing written responses. We note that there is a deadline to amend and if we need to seek an extension (since we will have less than 30 days to review documents), one factor may be the defendant's delay in producing documents. Can you please articulate the reason the documents were not produced with the responses?

Regards,

Max
